Item: Prisoner-276

Status: Uncontained (Containment Pending)

Power Class: Active, Physical

Identification: Explosions at will, immunity to explosions caused in this way.

Physical Anomalies: Minor ability to breathe smoke, inability to breathe regular air for long periods of time (needing immediate medical attention at 53 minutes, nearly killed by oxygen tank,) naturally green hair.

Overall Threat Level: 7/10

Escape Probability: Unknown.

Containment Procedures: Prisoner-276 is to be kept in an airtight 9m x 9m x 8m cell made of blastproof obsidian. A 15cm by 35cm grate in the floor connected to a sealed tank will dispense the mixture of N_2 , CO_2 , CO^- , HCN , and NH_4^+ that Prisoner-276 breathes. Two (2) 15cm by 35cm grates set into the ceiling will be connected to tanks of oxygen in case of noncompliance. Pandora is to monitor the cell through three security cameras at all times.

Description: Prisoner-276 appears mostly human, with the exception of green hair. Prisoner-276 wears a modified gas mask in standard atmospheres, believed to be cosmetic by the general populace. It is unknown how compliant ~~he~~ it will be in containment. Extreme caution is advised, as Prisoner-276 has proven ~~himself~~ itself capable of enough precision with the explosions to shatter the bones in a human hand without rupturing skin or damaging the forearm.*

Notes: Testing the limitations of what Prisoner-276 can breathe is not permitted. The likelihood of causing permanent lung damage is too high. Any testing requested for 276 requires direct authorisation from the Warden, and disregarding of this policy is grounds for immediate imprisonment.

*Addendum 276-A: how the hell does the Warden know this? When the fuck did Trigger actually do this? It's not in any of his files, or anywhere on the 'net? - Dr. Crumshaw

Addendum 276-B: dude I'm like 90% sure that's his fucking brother. Might even have been his hand Trigger broke, they don't get on. - Dr. Mahurin

Addendum 276-C: shit, really? Christ, they really must not get on if the Warden's writing the goddamn procedure to lock Trigger away in this hellhole for the rest of his life before he's even done anything. - Dr. Crumshaw

Note: Dr. Crumshaw and Dr. Mahurin have both received a severe reprimand for unprofessional behaviour and chosen to step down from their positions associated with Pandora's Vault.

Item: Prisoner-196221

Status: Contained

Power Class: Passive, Mental

Power Identification: Short range clairvoyance and short range telepathy

Physical Anomalies: None Overall Threat Level: 5/10*

Escape Probability: Low

Containment Procedures:

Prisoner-196221 is to be kept in a standard sized containment cell made of ~~standard material~~ specialized polymer manufactured by GSW's team. Only one security camera is required, to be monitored 24/7. Prisoner-196221 MUST be attached to the electrode helmet at all times. Shocks are to be administered if Prisoner-196221 ever attempts to make contact telepathically. Lethal force is approved as a last resort. The cell must also be equipped with vents to administer psychedelic fumes whenever the Asset is out of range, or in case of a power failure.

Description: Prisoner-196221 appears as a human female. While it is capable of low levels of telepathy and clairvoyance, close presence of the Asset renders it almost entirely powerless. Its behavior is complicit, and no shocks have so far been necessary to maintain compliance.

Addendum 196221-a: The reasoning for a high threat level rating is not for any physical or mental danger, but for the difficulty of catching the prisoner in the first place. In addition, if it were to ever breach containment, it could prove disastrous to the integrity of the organization. See Prisoner-31991616 for more reasoning as to this placement.

Addendum 196221-b: Since the range of telepathy in Prisoner-196221 is technically unknown, though assumed to be short, a proposal has been made for experiments in creating a material through which telepathy cannot travel.

Addendum 196221-c: Success! My team and I have created a polymer that, while not halting the effects of telepathy as hoped, shorten the effects to the cell in which Prisoner-196221 resides. - GSW

Item: Prisoner-31991616

Status: Contained

Power Class: Passive, Mental

Power Identification: Long range tracking of any and all people

Physical Anomalies: ~~Reindeer-like antlers~~* none

Overall Threat Level: 4/10

Escape Probability: Low

Containment Procedures:

Prisoner-31991616 is to be kept in a standard sized containment cell made of standard material. Only one security camera is required, to be monitored 24/7. The cell must also be equipped with vents to administer psychedelic fumes whenever the Asset is out of range, or in case of a power failure. An electrode helmet is to be kept on standby in case any more disturbing or potentially dangerous behavior (waving fingers / hands / arms) is observed. Regular attempts at forcing communication are scheduled.

Description: Prisoner-31991616 appears as a male human-reindeer hybrid. It has refused all attempts of communication with the research team, even though it has been given ample opportunity and punishment. The Asset is assumed to have an effect on Prisoner-3199161, but without any form of communication, we are unsure.

Addendum 31991616-a: Prisoner-31991616 previously had reindeer-like antlers growing out of its head. These were removed as both an attempt to make it communicate and to make the electrode helmet fit. After each scheduled attempt at communication, a check is required to see whether or not the antlers regrow. If they begin to reappear, they are to be dealt with swiftly.

*Addendum 31991616-b: Similar to Prisoner-196221, Prisoner-31991616 has a higher threat level because of its information-gathering abilities, which pose a danger to the organization if it were to ever escape. As Pandora pointed out, “physically, this is the same as a regular human, and a shot to the head will be lethal. However, they will be incredibly annoying to recapture”

~~Addendum 31991616-c: The scientists here don't know ASL.~~

~~I do.~~

~~And I'm not sure this prisoner is like they say.~~

~~I think he's a person. I mean "it". I mean- I don't know. I have Sean back and I know he's a person. But I don't- I don't know.~~

~~The others always call the prisoners "it".~~

~~But he told me his name is Callahan. He signed me the letters while it was my turn on the cameras.~~

~~If they let me near Sean again I'll ask him.~~

~~After all, he used to be an "it" too.~~

~~And so did I.~~

Item: Prisoner-47636

Status: Deceased, Records to be archived

Power Class: Active, Physical/Mental

Power Identification: Fox-human shapeshifting, low effectiveness mental manipulation through vocal means.

Physical Anomalies : ~~Is a fucking fox~~ None

Overall Threat Level: 4/10

Escape Probability: Medium*

Containment Procedures:

Prisoner-47636 is to be kept in a standard sized fox cage made of thick steel wiring in the center of a standard sized, standard material cell. The cage should be around 42” long and 15” wide. Two security cameras are recommended to observe dual angles of the cage should Prisoner-47636 ever attempt to chew through the wirings. In such an event, sedative gas should be administered from the vents in the cell and a replacement cage should be provided.

Description : Prisoner-47636 appears as a fox, specifically of the Vulpes Fulva species. Prisoner-47636 is feral and assumed to be non-compliant in containment. Caution is advised for retrieval team, and if contact once imprisoned is ever necessary.

Addendum 47636-a: Prisoner-47636 is given a Medium rating for Escape Probability because of its small size, feral nature, ability to blend into the human population, and low quality mind manipulation. Prisoner-47636 isn't particularly dangerous one-on-one, as it is just a fox, albeit a feral one. Nowhere near the levels of the Angel.

Addendum 47636-b: Are we just going to ignore that it spent the majority of its life in human form?

Addendum 47636-c: Would we feed this thing fox food or person food? That's what I thought. Keep the classification.

~~Addendum 47636-d: This is slated for archival anyway, so fuck it.~~

~~You know what I miss most?~~

~~Pokémon.~~

~~Fuckin loved that shit. My roommate and I used to play nuzlockes together, racing each other to beat the game first.~~

~~I miss that. I miss my friends, I miss college. I don't even know if they were real or something I made up to cope. But I know there's no going back to that.~~

~~I'd want to give them a hug and all I'd do is kill them.~~

~~I...~~

~~I really fucking miss Pokémon.~~

Item: Prisoner-289574

Status: Contained

Power Class: Active, Mental

Power Identification: Mental manipulation through vocal means

Physical Anomalies: None

Overall Threat Level: 8/10

Escape Probability: High

Containment Procedures:

Prisoner-289574 is to be kept in a standard sized containment cell made of standard material. Three security cameras at opposite angles are to be monitored at all times by at least three staff; one watching, one watching and listening, and one enforcer in case the listener starts to act erratically (under assumption that Prisoner-289574's manipulation can travel through our audio surveillance technology). The cell is to be outfitted with a sprinkler system loaded with one molar sulfuric acid (1M H₂SO₄) that can be triggered remotely by the observer. Sprays are to be administered whenever behavior risking escape or endangering staff is observed*. Close, in person inspection is to be made of Prisoner-289574's oral stitches daily, and more stitching is to be added in case of observed flaws. Under no circumstances are the oral stitches to be removed.

Description: Prisoner-289574 appears as a human male with curly brown hair and no discernible physical anomalies. Its behavior frequently endangers staff and risks escape, which resulted in the upgrade from a simple muzzle to using stitching to seal the entire mouth closed.

Addendum 289574-a: Sprinklers with strong acid have been added as further deterrent for misbehavior. The prisoner consistently refuses to comply, and the Warden approved a more consequential approach.

~~Addendum 289574-b: I've made an executive decision and the decision is fuck this.~~

~~I don't care if they kill me at this point. It's not like they can really, that'd make Sean go feral and then... then I don't know.~~

~~Maybe it's better if I were dead so he couldn't be contained.~~

~~He'd call me an idiot for thinking like that. And somehow it'd be slightly romantic.~~

~~When he was here before, I told him I couldn't do it anymore. He wasn't an It anymore. He was a He. A person.~~

~~I couldn't take the pumping organs and breathing lungs and beating, bleeding hearts from the chest of a person. But he pulled out his own heart and gave it to me.~~

~~He gave me his heart.~~

~~He's the only person I can touch.~~

~~I'm... I'm going to check on him. Hopefully they let me be the one to hurt him.~~

~~Hopefully they haven't found a way to end him yet.~~

~~-GSW~~
